Documentary Video Proposal

Prepared for:

BGIFT Institute of Science and Technology

Prepared by:

Quadque Technologies Pty. Ltd.

Introduction

Did you know that video content gets processed by our brains 60,000 times faster than text? And this is the reason why the audience prefers to watch a video about the company than read about it.

Documentary videos are the most powerful way to tell your brand's story, engage with your audience, and build trust with them. It is essential for every business to create videos that can bring their brand to come to life online.

And that's what we do! We at Quadque use stories to make videos that resonate with the audience and can keep your brand on the top of your audience's mind. We produce videos after understanding the brand and its goals. And that's why we have been very successful over the years in helping companies attract more customers!

About Us

Quadque Technologies Ltd. is one of the leading video production companies working across numerous channels and categories in Bangladesh. We strive to provide our clients with compelling, relevant, and practical videos. We are trusted by some of the world's most admired brands such as Bkash, and OTOBI Furniture Ltd.

Our professional team of writers, directors, producers, and cinematographers handles projects of nearly every scale and genre, from single-camera studio interviews to multi-camera, multi-crew commercial shoots, in multiple locations worldwide.

Our mission is to create immersive experiences that help brands reach their goals. We pride ourselves on understanding your story and visually representing it to connect with your audience.

Project Approach

1. Know Your Company

We'll sit with you, understand your business and its goals, brainstorm the video concepts, and decide on the content type that will work best for your interest.

2. Plan Your Shoot

We'll write the script keeping content in line with your marketing plan, cast any actors, decide on the location and set design, and freeze all the details involved required for the video.

3. Start Your Shoot

Now the actual shoot starts! This is where our professional team will do what they do best - shoot a great video.

4. Review, Approve and Publish the Video

We'll share the first cut with you and you'll have a chance to share your opinions with us. After your final approval, we'll create high-quality files of your video that can be published on a variety of platforms.

5. Promote Your Video

We'll also market and promote your videos through social media channels, television channels, and printed mediums.
